Orientation Programme on Gender Champion Course

Date: 17.11.2026
Venue: CLT, Department of Chemistry
Organised by: Bhadrak (Autonomous) College in collaboration with PATANG, Sambalpur

Bhadrak (Autonomous) College, in collaboration with PATANG, Sambalpur, organised an orientation programme on the Gender Champion Course on 17.11.2026, at 11:00 AM at CLT, Department of Chemistry. The programme aimed to sensitise students towards gender equality, gender justice, inclusivity, and the importance of creating a safe and discrimination-free environment in educational institutions and society. The resource person, Mr Chandrakanta Das, Assistant Professor of Psychology, Gangadhar Mehar University, Sambalpur, highlighted the importance of youth participation in challenging gender-based prejudices and promoting positive social change. The orientation also emphasised the role of Gender Champions as agents of change who can create awareness, encourage equal opportunities, promote mutual respect, and contribute towards building a gender-sensitive campus and society. Students were encouraged to actively participate in the course and take initiatives to address gender-related concerns within their communities.

The programme provided an important platform for interaction, awareness, and learning, reinforcing the commitment of Bhadrak Autonomous College and PATANG, Sambalpur, to promoting gender equality, empowerment, and social inclusion. Some glimpses of the programme are attached:
